Musical Theatre (boys & girls): a form of theatre that combines songs, spoken dialogue, acting, and dance.

Ballet: an artistic dance form performed to music, using precise and highly formalized set steps and gestures.

Hip Hop (boys and girls): a type of studio based dance that had origins in ‘street’ and freestyle dancing. It does not have defined steps or movements and is generally synced to the beat.

Jazz: a type of a dance that had origins in matching rhythms and techniques to that of jazz music. Jazz tends to move with the popular music of the time.

Contemporary: a style of expressive dance that combines elements of jazz, lyrical and classical ballet.

Tap: a form of dance characterised by using sounds of tap shoes striking on the floor as a for of percussion.
